INTENDERS CIRCLE

with Tony Burroughs

Tony Burroughs, author of 11 self-empowering books and originator of the Intenders will be with us sharing his incredible journey and how he lives by intention. He says: "We started out with four of us sitting around a table on the patio once a week. We'd go around the circle and each of us would say our gratitudes and then our intentions for the things that we desired to manifest in our lives. Pretty soon, we were getting phenomenal results, a bunch of our friends had joined us, and the feeling of being part of a family had awakened in all of us. There really is strength in numbers!"
